

Urban Infill Study

What is the status of the Study?

The Urban Infill Study is currently in Stage 3. On July 23, 2018, staff gave an update on the Study to Council, presenting draft material prepared up to this point. At the meeting, Council directed staff to continue to research, prepare and test draft infill policies and regulations, and report back on the findings. A link to the staff report is available on our project web page: abbotsford.ca/urban3infill.

Interim approach for infill applications

As per Council's decision on February 19, 2018, applications for rezoning within the Urban 3-Infill land use designation are being received and processed as follows:

- Full and complete rezoning applications within the Urban 3-Infill land use designation, received on or before February 19, 2018, are being processed and brought to Council for consideration of Bylaw readings on a case-by-case basis; and
- Rezoning applications within the Urban 3-Infill land use designation, received after February 19, 2018, are being received and placed on hold until the completion of the Urban Infill Study.

What about my property?
