Arbour Day Celebration in Abbotsford

Abbotsford, September 16, 2016 – Abbotsford Parks, Recreation & Culture is celebrating Arbour Day with a one-day event at Bateman Park for elementary students on Wednesday, September 21, 2016.

The event is geared for school-aged children and will give teachers the opportunity to put a local perspective on their science and environmental studies. Arbour Day focuses on the celebration of trees and their importance and value in our communities by promoting tree planting.

The event will include an official tree planting with City officials, an interactive trail tour, prize give-a-ways and planting activities for students.

Arbour Day takes place on Wednesday, September 21, 2016 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at Bateman Park. The event is free, but classes must pre-register by calling the Parks, Recreation & Culture Department at 604-853-5485 extension 5884. The event is also open to community members at no cost.

For more information, please contact Shawn Gurney at 604-853-5485 ext. 5884 or email sgurney@abbotsford.ca.
